

February 12th - Gavin Bond Snaps A-Listers

Striking a chord for those who love celebrity

BY HARPER'S BAZAAR UK / AUG 11, 2010

He's captured everyone who's anyone in the music world, and now leading celebrity photographer Gavin Bond has brought his exclusive exhibition of works to London.

For those who love nothing more than to delve into the world of celebrity, the exhibition, Music, will certainly strike a chord. From rock royalty in the form of Bono to recent pop sensation Katy Perry, Bond's A-list archive of clients is as diverse as Lady Gaga's wardrobe.

Captured in a unique style, fans can see their idols from a totally personal perspective. Be sure to rock up to the Idea Generation Gallery from the 23rd February to the 21st March and get in with the crowd.

Music will be a free exhibition at the Idea Generation Gallery, 11 Chance Street, London E2 7JB. Call 0207 77496850 for more info.
